2.5. CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT CELL (CDC)

Education is the essence of human existence involving learning from the past, living in the present and looking into the future confidently. It demands the development and implementation of a suitable curriculum under formal education. Curriculum development, therefore, is a continuous process in our institution and involves a sustained effort to restructure, revise and update as often as possible.

Curriculum Development Cell (CDC), constituted as a functionary of autonomy in our institution with due representation from all departments, takes care of the formulation of programme schemes, guidelines, teaching strategies and the conduct of staff development programmes besides drafting the Operational Guidelines. The CDC also engages itself in the preparation of study materials for and monitoring the conduct of Part-IV courses offered in this college such as Information Technology, Non-Major Electives, Soft Skill Development, Spoken English, General Knowledge and Test of Reasoning, Environmental Studies, Value Education, Human Rights, Women Studies and Professional Ethics that are essential for the holistic development of students.

The criteria used for curriculum development at our institution include:

- Feedback from students on the course scheme and input from faculty regarding the existing curriculum.
- Suggestions from external experts, university nominees, co-opted members and alumni from both academia and industry in Boards of Studies meetings.
- Interaction with industrialists, professionals, scientists, external examiners and others.
- Discussions with HR managers during campus interviews.
- Adherence to model curricula prescribed by the UGC/TANSICHE and recruiting Bodies.
- Integration of syllabi from various professional bodies and competitive examinations such as UGC-NET, CSIR-NET, SET, GATE, CA, ICWA, UPSC, TNPSC among others.
- Updates based on syllabi from the Parent University and other universities.
- Freedom to revise the curricula of all programmes annually to incorporate recent developments as needed.
- Mandatory revision of undergraduate and postgraduate curricula every three years.
- Inclusion of student members in the Curriculum Development Cell to witness the efforts taken for their welfare in the field of Curriculum Development.

In April 2022, TANSICHE introduced a new model syllabus for all UG and PG programs, applicable to students admitted in 2023 and later. In alignment with these guidelines and in coordination with Madurai Kamaraj University, our curriculum has been revised to reflect at least 75% of TANSICHE's prescribed content. Some highlights of the new curriculum are outlined below,

Exclusive Features of UG Curriculum:

- Generic Elective Courses provide students the opportunity to gain knowledge from related disciplines, expanding their understanding beyond core subjects and engage in interdisciplinary learning.
- The Foundation course serves as an introductory platform, ensuring that students build a strong foundation in their chosen disciplines.
- Non-Major Elective Courses allow students to explore subjects outside their primary area of study.

- Self-Employment Courses, which include Entrepreneurial-Based and Generic Courses, are designed to equip students with the skills and knowledge for self-employment and entrepreneurship. Over 40 Self Employment Courses are included in this revision.

- As the Curriculum needs additional value addition, discipline-related digital Crash Courses in core areas / Certificate / Diploma / P.G. Diploma Courses are being offered by the departments. This will enhance the employability and skill orientation of the students.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION

Outcome Based Education (OBE) was adopted in our College from the academic year 2020-21 for both Undergraduate and Postgraduate Curricula. Outcome Based Education (OBE) is a student-centric learning model that enables teachers to deliver course content and conduct assessment with a focus on the intended outcome of each programme. OBE enhances the employability of the students besides helping them to imbibe the necessary skills specifically ensuring the holistic development of their personality.

In order to adopt OBE, ANJAC has fixed the a) Programme Educational Objectives (PEOs) b) Programme Outcomes (POs) c) Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) and d) Course Outcomes (COs). By employing these outcomes, the Course Attainment of all the Courses of a Programme and Programme Attainment for all the Programmes shall be done.

2.6.5. FEEDBACK MECHANISM

It has been our practice to design the curriculum by taking into account the opinions/suggestions of all stakeholders including learners at the grassroots level. The following scientific feedback mechanisms are being adopted in our College for revamping the curriculum

- Learners are asked to evaluate the programmes they have completed at the end of each year and their feedback is duly taken care of at the time of the next revision of the curriculum.
- Student members of the CDC also share their opinions on the existing curriculum during the Cell meetings.
- The Opinion of the Teaching faculty on the revision of the curriculum is obtained through a series of departmental meetings.
- Whenever a major revision takes place, a special opinion survey is conducted by the CDC among the final-year learners and alumni.
- Feedback from subject experts, alumni and professionals is also obtained at the meetings of the Boards of Studies of each discipline.
- Views of the local industrialists and prospective employers are obtained through informal interactions.
- Parents provide frank opinions on the existing curriculum during parent-teacher meetings.
- The opinions of external examiners are gathered during practical examinations and VivaVoce assessments.
- Views of eminent scholars, professionals, industrialists, university representatives and learners, both present and past, are also obtained during the academic council.

2.7. STAFF DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

Teaching is a dynamic profession that requires lifelong learning. In order to bring the latest concepts into the classrooms and engage students, a teacher must continually update their knowledge. The acquisition of knowledge and wisdom is, indeed, central to the vocation of teaching.

In order to equip themselves with the latest concepts in their chosen field of interest, the teachers should be encouraged to participate in such academic gatherings. Hence, every year we provide funds so as to enable our faculty members to participate in Staff Development Programmes in other institutions also. Every year AARC, CDC, IQAC, CTEL and Women Cell conduct Staff Enrichment Programmes in our college to enable the faculty members to enrich their skills in various areas of life and classroom management. Ultimately, through the professional development of the teachers, the student community gets benefits.

When there is a willingness to change, there is a hope for progress in any field. Creativity can be developed and innovation benefits both students and teachers. However, innovations in teaching and learning can be challenging task considering the heterogeneity of students. Blended learning, which combined traditional classroom teaching with modern day ICT enabled learning process, can be a panacea for the student community. ANJAC is a front-runner in such innovations, having created virtual classrooms equipped with visualizers, interactive boards, LCD projectors, Televisions with DTH access, VYAS Channel access, MLM and video lessons and related gadgets.

3.3 Evaluation of Students

Evaluation of students is done comprehensively in both the Continuous Internal Assessment and Terminal Examinations effectively by the respective departments and the Controller of Examinations (UG & PG). In UG, evaluation of Part-I, Part-II and Part III Courses are based on a uniform pattern of 40% Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA) and 60% Terminal Examinations for Theory and on 50% CIA and 50% Terminal Examination for Practical Courses.

For Part-IV and Part-V Courses, the evaluation varies as given in the programme scheme and follows the evaluation procedures as per the requirements of the courses. These courses shall be excluded from the Common Internal Assessment Test Schedule prepared for the Part-I, Part-II and Part III courses. “Statement of Marks and Grades” is issued to every student after the publication of results of Terminal Examinations of every semester.

The statement of marks and grades contains the number of credits for each course, the marks obtained, the corresponding grade points and grade obtained by the student in individual Courses under Part I, II, III, IV and V along with the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) for Part I, II, III, IV and V separately. The Department of English is well aware of the challenges and inhibitions faced by rural students in learning English. As most of our students have completed their schooling in Tamil medium, they find the medium of instruction in college, to be challenging.

In order to train them with the basic communicative skills in English, in the beginning of every academic year, a bridge course is offered to all I year UG students of our College for six days. This course also acts as a bridge for the new student entrants to fill the gap between the school and the college environments. In this course, they are also taught the basic components of English grammar which helps them to speak and write in English with fewer grammatical errors. In addition, comprehension passages are provided to expand their vocabulary and improve language proficiency. 4.1 CENTRE FOR TECHNOLOGY ENHANCED LEARNING (CTEL)

ICT-based learning has become an indispensable tool to promote knowledge in all aspects of education. To enhance the quality of thinking among our students, our college established the Centre for Technology Enhanced Learning (CTEL) on 2nd February 2009 in our campus. The CTEL has been organizing seminars, workshops and training programmes to both students and staff by inviting resource persons from software industries and academic institutions who excel in ICT-based teaching. Our staff members have prepared more than 800 Multimedia Learning Materials (MLMs) from the subjects they handled, for the benefit of our students. From these MLMs, students learn their subject concepts visually and can test their knowledge by the contents, quizzes, and assignments provided there MLMs. Students are also motivated to prepare MLMs. More than 100 students have contributed their MLMs to the CTEL.

The CTEL extends its service to all the staff members and the students in the campus through the Co-operative Learning Program which effectively utilizes these Multimedia materials. Cash awards are given to the best MLMs prepared by staff from 2012 onwards on the Teacher's Day Celebrations every year. Besides, the CTEL organized various workshops, seminars and training programmes for staff and students.

The CTEL now extends its horizon in the ICT-based learning in the campus by joining hands with the Department of Visual Communication. Our Staff members have prepared Video Lectures for the benefit of students by utilizing the Audio – Visual Laboratory. These video lectures compete with the lectures available in You-tube. Students find it easy to understand the subject concepts by utilizing these video lectures.

10. Benefits accrued to Students under Autonomy

Ever since the conferment of autonomous status to our institution, our college has made rapid progress in all spheres of higher education. The shift from affiliated to autonomous system indeed, has enabled us to usher in various innovations and reforms which ensured the holistic development of the student community.

As the UGC has been reiterating the importance of Institutes of Higher Learning to imbibe the three cardinal rules such as equity, access and quality in the endeavours of higher education, our institution has been utilizing the concept of autonomy both in letter and spirit. Accordingly, the following benefits are accrued to the students under autonomy.

1. Providing workable Curriculum

- ✓ Periodical revamping of the curriculum to meet the changing demands of job market
- ✓ Recasting the curriculum to mould knowledgeable graduates
- ✓ Designing the curriculum to produce employable and skillful learners
- ✓ As curriculum designing requires mandatory representation from industries, academia and alumni, it is followed without any compromise which is possible only in an autonomous institution
- ✓ Provision for add-on courses such as Information Technology, Environmental Studies and Life-Coping Skills
- ✓ Inclusion of Value-Based Education on Human Rights, Professional Ethics and Women Studies

2. Wide Choices for the students under Choice Based Credit System

- ✓ Under autonomy, through CBCS, students are provided with provision for horizontal and vertical mobility in courses
- ✓ Large number of electives and optional courses
- ✓ Short Term / Crash Courses with credit allocation for fast learners
- ✓ Academic flexibility to incorporate necessary global focus on the models

3. Examination reforms

- ✓ Online examination system
- ✓ Online Certificate verification system for hassle-free certification and verification
- ✓ Viva-voce Exam through Video Conferencing

4. Quality enhancement of faculty

Any measure undertaken towards the enhancement of the quality of the higher education is ultimately aimed at benefiting the end users i.e., the students. Quality enhancement of teachers is ensured by the conduct of Staff Development Programmes, Workshops and Faculty Development Programmes through which the staff members update themselves constantly.

11.3 Participation of Teachers in Academic and Extension activities

One of the most important objectives of education is to mould the student community to face the vagaries of the outside world. Indeed, the world outside the classroom for the student is totally different from what he had experienced inside the classroom. To provide them a taste of the life of the outside world, a large number of Extension Activities were conducted by providing funds to all the Departments. The Extension Activities, mostly conducted in the immediate neighbourhood, made the students study the real-life situations of the common man. By these Extension Activities, school students and the public in and around Sivakasi were benefited. Likewise, the activities conducted in places such as orphanages, old-age homes, deaf and dumb schools, government hospitals, schools and so on and so forth enabled the students to understand the root cause of the sufferings of the rural poor and the downtrodden.

Through the Extension Activities, students have a chance to develop a real interpersonal relationship with the neighbourhood community and society. Hence, every year we conduct large number of Extension Activities by providing funds for the welfare of the society and school students.

Plants used by the students of neighbouring colleges for research are identified by the faculty of Botany which is indeed a good consultancy service.

14. CREGWAV

Centre for Research on the Effect of Global Warming and Environmental Awareness in Virudhunagar District (CREGWAV) was established in our College to create awareness on the effect of global warming among the people in our district.

It monitors the air quality, temperature, relative humidity, rain fall in Virudhunagar district. This forum also analysed the number of trees in Sivakasi and its vicinity inclusive of our College campus.

15. HIGHLIGHTS OF ACHIEVEMENTS AFTER ATTAINING AUTONOMY

The conferment of autonomy has given us wide scope to restructure the UG, PG and M.Phil., curricula incorporating therein new components so as to make education in the campus more broad-based and diversified than in the pre-autonomous era. Besides, autonomy has given us a challenging task of development of the overall personality of the learners in the campus.

In fact, after becoming autonomous, many new components like General Knowledge; Career Education, Value Education, Human Rights and Women Studies, Physical Education, Environmental Studies, Spoken English, Information Technology, Mass Communication, Test of Reasoning, Personality Development, Soft Skill and Spoken English have been introduced in the curriculum for creating and developing vocational awareness and social consciousness among the learners, so that their employability may also be enhanced. Indeed, autonomy has paved way for curricular innovations in the campus for the benefit of students in particular and the society at large.

16. Curricular Reforms

The rigidity attached with the affiliated system has been completely dispensed with under our autonomous set-up. The major considerations addressed in the curriculum are

- Development of the overall personality of learners in the campus by giving due attention to all the educational domains in the curriculum
- Inculcation of scientific temper, democratic, moral, social and spiritual values in the minds of the learners
- Orientation of learners towards self-learning and developing skills in communication so that they may become more active participants in the learning process
- Appraisal, review and restructure of the curricula on par with the expansion of global knowledge
- Diversification of the programme contents with a view to establish greater relevance to socio-economic problems of the society
- Introduction of greater flexibility in the curriculum by giving more freedom of choice to learners to design their own curriculum
- Introduction of Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) in the U.G. and P.G. curricula gives an opportunity to students to construct their own course scheme based on their academic interests and choice of career
- Giving more thrust on the improvement of communication skills of learners in the campus
- Introduction of interdisciplinary papers in the P.G. Curriculum
- Assisting learners to undertake research in different disciplines including interdisciplinary researches, so that they may support the process of development and modernization of our nation
- Imparting environment-based education to all the learners in the campus
- Designing and introducing job-oriented courses wherever possible to meet the local requirements and thereby making the learners employable in the market
- Inclusion of Physical Education under Part –V of the course scheme for all Undergraduate programmes
- Introduction of Project Work for U.G. and P.G. Learners

- Horizontal and Vertical mobility of P.G. Students in selecting their Elective Courses
- Introduction of numerous Certificate, Diploma and Advanced Diploma Courses

16.1. Teaching-Learning Reforms

Autonomy has enabled us to introduce many reforms teaching-learning.

Lecture method of teaching is gradually replaced by modern teaching with the use of Interactive Boards, Clarity Visualizers, LCD Projectors, Over Head Projectors, Group Discussion, Model Interviews, Self-Study techniques, Project Work, Library Work etc., Greater attention is paid to the development of communication skills for which Spoken English Course is offered for the benefit of the students.

The staff members are motivated to prepare Multimedia Learning Materials (MLMs), Video Lessons and Audio Lessons for effective learning our students. The students are also encouraged to prepare power point presentations for their seminars and association meetings.

16.2. Examination Reforms

Another achievement of autonomy in the campus is, the reforms introduced in the examination system. Apart from the conventional written and practical examinations, some innovative techniques like assessment of Group Discussions, Model Interviews, Communication Skills, Library Notebooks etc., have been tried with great success. A blue print for the question paper setter has been developed, limiting the Knowledge type questions only to 50% of the total marks of the said paper. This has been done with a view to create originality and promote scientific thinking in the minds of the learners.

The blue print is sent to the External Examiners to enable them follow the educational objectives in the question paper set by them.

Comprehension Test (Terminal Examination) is being conducted as an “on-line test” for the Postgraduate Students. Necessary software for conducting the test was developed by the faculty of Computer Science. The questions for comprehension test are set by the Course Teachers. From the academic year 2010-11 onwards, computer-assisted question paper setting is implemented for the comprehension test. These question papers are framed by the Computers from the Multiple Choice Question Bank developed by our College Staff. The Server randomly distributes the questions to each student. The answer sheets, are evaluated by the computer itself producing a completed foil card of the marks scored by the students. The students of our College find the on-line comprehension test easier than conventional tests.

All Terminal Examination question papers are analyzed by the respective course teachers and any deviation from the expected pattern is intimated to the examiner who is going to undertake the second valuation. The copies of the mark sheets of terminal examinations of all the students of the college are sent to their parents to know the performance of their children. A Question Bank for all PG courses is also available.

17. Concluding Remarks

In a developing country like India, Higher Education Institutions need to play a significant role in the holistic development of the society in general and the individual in particular. This is all the more relevant to a rural institution like ANJAC which has been serving as a beacon light in the higher education horizon of the country.

Ever since its inception in the year 1963, the college has been striving hard to emancipate the society by providing quality education to the rural student community. Though the college has grown by leaps and bounds, it never compromised its ideals of imparting knowledge values and wisdom to the ever-growing needs of the student society. In its glorious history spanning more than six decades, the institution has crossed several milestones. Conferment of autonomy in the year 1987 enabled the institution to acquire necessary liberty for periodical revamping of curriculum to synchronize the local needs with the Choice Based Credit System, conducting online examinations, providing on-the-job training, job-oriented courses and soft skill programmes to enhance the employability of the learners, developing robust infrastructure for conducive teaching – learning and recruiting competent faculty for the overall development of the institution.

Moreover, autonomy has empowered the institution to tap funds from various funding agencies to foster research culture among faculty and scholars. Realising the potential of the College, the University Grants Commission has earnestly elevated and recognized the institution as College of Excellence. This recognition came as shot in the arm for the institution to march ahead with the motto of bringing in many more innovations and novelties in teaching – learning and evaluation processes, an objective holistic development of hundreds of thousands of learners who came to ANJAC for their career prospects.
